

JOINT TREATY WITH ALL OF CENTRAL POWERS PROPOSED IN NEW CONFERENCE PLAN

Is Backed by American and British Leaders and Would Save Time, Contention; Probably Grows Out of Opposition to Form of Draft With Germany; Premiers and Wilson Confer.

KAROYI SLAIN, IS AN UNCONFIRMED REPORT

By Associated Press
PARIS, Tuesday, March 25.—It became known tonight that a serious effort was being made in the highest quarters to join together all the peace treaties with Germany, Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria, thus making one comprehensive treaty in which Germany would be linked with the other Central Powers as their responsible head.

While such a step would cause some delay yet the American and British leaders here feel that it would save time in the end in completing the work on all the peace treaties. The inclusion of Austria in a comprehensive treaty would be particularly acceptable to Italy which has resented the conclusion of terms with Germany in a document which failed to deal with Italy's interests in Austria.

The movement for a single treaty with all the four powers probably grows out of Premier Orlando's strong opposition to such omission in the first treaty of clauses dealing with Italy's interests. The plan has not yet been finally determined upon and it may meet with objections, but the tendency is toward its acceptance. It is stated that the fact that the United States is not at war with Turkey or Bulgaria has raised no objection to the plan. Should the plan be adopted it is expected that the four treaties could be linked together and completed by May 1.

GREATER PROGRESS THAN

APPEARS BY SURFACE

WASHINGTON, March 25.—A message to the White House today from the American peace delegation at Paris said greater progress towards peace was being made than "appeared on the surface."

No details of the progress were given and White House officials declined to speculate on what developments might have furnished the basis for the dispatch.

In some quarters it was assumed that the American delegates were optimistic over the important amendments to the league of nations constitution agreed upon yesterday, including one specifically to exempt domestic questions from the jurisdiction of the league and over the apparent certainty that the associated powers will accept President Wilson's provision designed to preserve the Monroe Doctrine.

PRESIDENT AND PREMIERS

CONFERENCE AT WHITE HOUSE

PARIS, March 25.—President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando resumed at the Paris White House today their series of conferences which is expected to continue until the most important questions which have been delaying the work of the peace conference are cleared up. The differences of opinion which have developed since the return of Mr. Wilson to Paris are being considered fully and frankly and a determined effort is being made in the interest of an early peace to reach an agreement on broad lines.

The President and the premiers held their first meeting Tuesday beginning at 11 o'clock in the morning. This super-council, it is expected, will smooth over many of the difficulties facing the supreme council.

PARIS, Tuesday, March 25.—In

President Wilson's study at the Paris White House occurred today the first gathering of premiers under the plan proposed by the President, that continuous meetings be held until great questions which have been obstructing the early conclusion of the peace treaty should be resolved. The session began at 11 o'clock this morning, was resumed after lunch and continued into the evening, with no other councils or conferences to distract the attention of the President and the premiers. It marked the initial step by the super-council in taking direction of affairs and in meeting apprehension due to the revolution blazing up in eastern Europe.

The Russian situation, particularly in relation to the political upheaval in Hungary, was considered at today's conference and it was understood that boundary questions would also be taken up.

"The armistice November 11," said Count von Bernstorff, "was signed when all the powers interested had accepted the program of peace proposed by President Wilson. Germany is determined to keep to this agreement which history will regard in a way as the conclusion of a preliminary peace. She herself is ready to submit to the conditions arising from it and she expects all the interested powers to do the same."

SIZE OF BULLET MAY DETERMINE FATE OF GIRL

Doesn't Correspond With Calibre of Weapon. Contention in Grindstone Case.

THE WITNESS IS IN DOUBT

Called to Stand in Murder Trial in Uniontown Nurse is Unable to Positively Identify Lenden Missile, Supposedly from a .38 Revolver.

Upon the size of the bullet taken from the body of Pomplio Capanni may depend the fate of Rosy Cadlup, a rosy checked girl of Grindstone, who was placed on trial yesterday before Judge E. H. Reppert on a charge of voluntary manslaughter. A revolver placed in evidence by the commonwealth purporting to have been the one used by the girl in the premature peace demonstration at Grindstone last November is of a .38 calibre while one of the commonwealth witnesses testified that he had heard a .32 calibre bullet was taken from the man's body at the Brownsville hospital. Court was adjourned for the day to give the prosecution an opportunity to locate the bullet and place it in evidence.

There seems to be no dispute over the girl's participation in the premature peace celebration and that she was using a revolver to express her joy at the conclusion of the war. Following a conference between Assistant District Attorney H. G. May and Attorney George Patterson with Judge Reppert the case was continued until this morning and officers left immediately for Brownsville to locate the bullet if possible at the Brownsville hospital.

Deputy Sheriff William Wilson went to Brownsville this morning and secured the bullet from Mary Gee, a nurse at the hospital and produced it in court. Later, on the stand, the nurse said she did not believe it was the same bullet.

Justice of the Peace C. G. Garfield testified that it would be possible to fire a .32 calibre projectile from a .38 calibre revolver if placed in a .38 shell. There was no intimation that such an unusual method had been adopted.

The climax of the second homicide case this term of court in which a woman is defendant came during the testimony of Nick Desmond. The man told the jury that he had removed a bullet from Capanni's clothing at the Brownsville hospital and had given it to the nurse together with his other belongings. That statement apparently was a surprise to the prosecution. The impression having been given that no bullet had been found either in the man's body or in his clothing. Officers in preparing the case for the commonwealth are said to have taken the statement of hospital officials at Brownsville that no bullet was found.

The question of the bullet's calibre was raised by Mont Kelly, one of the commonwealth witnesses. The defendant is a bright eyed girl of about 17 years with very rosy cheeks. Motion was filed yesterday for a new trial for John R. Kershaw, convicted last week before Judge J. C. Work of perjury and larceny by clerk. W. H. McBurney, a West Penn contractor, was found guilty on one count of assault and battery and not guilty on a verdict returned before Judge Work yesterday. He was prosecuted by Antonio Banielle and his wife. The trouble arose over a dispute for the payment of a fare for a child of the Banielle family.

Upon the returning of a verdict of not guilty with the costs evenly divided in the line fence dispute between George Stull and James Hawk of Evans, a meeting of the patrol leaders' organization, composed of patrol leaders of the various Boy Scout troops of the city, will hold a meeting in the Carnegie library tomorrow evening. The meeting will be the second and every patrol leader is urged to attend.

COLLAPSE DENIED

Financial Conditions in Europe Will Right Themselves With Peace.

PARIS, March 25.—Persistent rumors that all Europe is on the verge of a financial collapse are not justified by the facts, a prominent American financial expert, who has been engaged for many months in studying the problem facing the peace conference, said in a statement today. Conditions were serious, he added, but not panicky and will doubtless be relieved greatly when peace is signed and the embargo lifted. He predicted that England will be stronger within a year than ever before because of her unusual commercial enterprises and the courage with which she meets her debts by taxation.

CITIZENS ASKED TO COME TO THE RESCUE OF B. & O.

Action of Railroad Administration Deals Hard Blow to Company Here.

SCORES OF MEN ARE IDLE

War-time Order of Government Directing Coke Shipments to the Pennsylvania and Making Baltimore & Ohio a Purely Coal Road Responsible.

Baltimore & Ohio railroad officials having failed to get the Railroad Administration to rescind its war measure order diverting coke originating in the Connellsville region from the Baltimore & Ohio to the Pennsylvania and making the Baltimore & Ohio a coal road, appeal has been made to citizens of the city to intervene in the hope that the rapidly declining business of the Fayette county branch of the Baltimore & Ohio system may be restored to something like its former volume. The matter was presented to the central committee of the service men's celebration last evening at city hall by James Wardley, who appeared as a representative of one of four railroad organizations ready to boost the celebration.

Dwindling business, Mr. Wardley said, has caused general idleness of Baltimore & Ohio employees in Connellsville and elsewhere in Fayette county with the result that through annual across the men will be unable to give much aid to the finance committee for the celebration, to say nothing of the Victory Loan in April and May. In the Connellsville yards, said Mr. Wardley, where there were formerly 12 ward engines in service there are now five or six; as Smithfield the number of crews has been reduced from 11 to four; at Uniontown, four to one. It will shortly be necessary to demote 20 more engineers, Mr. Wardley said, making a total of 90. Much of this depression is due, he said, to the government's policy with reference to the Baltimore & Ohio. The Baltimore & Ohio has lost 23 crews in the past two months, Mr. Wardley said. Losses by other roads have not been proportionate.

The Railroad Administration's action was based originally on the lesser cost per ton mile. Admitting that figures prove the cost to be less when shipped over the Pennsylvania, Mr. Wardley contended that pressure should be brought to bear on the administration to rescind the order during the present period of industrial inactivity as a matter of patriotism. The Connellsville division, which formerly was one of the leading railroad divisions of the country, should be given some consideration, he urged. "Live and let live" should be the motto during these times of stress, was his view.

Power to order the change rests with the director general's representative in Philadelphia, Mr. Wardley said. To this time efforts to induce him to consent have been of no avail. Mr. Wardley felt that some action by the city might bring results.

The central committee members were of the belief that that body was not the proper one before which to present the matter. It was suggested that it be laid before the mayor or the merchants or council. Mr. Wardley said a committee had conferred with the mayor, but without result. The final suggestion was made that he appear before council at its next meeting, March 31.

SUNDAY MOVIE BILL REPORTED NEGATIVELY BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

Effort Will be Made by Sponsor to Restore It to Calendar but Defeat is Predicted.

HARRISBURG, March 25.—The judiciary special committee of the House this afternoon put the death blow to the movie bill, amending the "blue laws" to allow moving picture exhibitions and concerts on Sunday evenings. By a vote of 18 to six the committee reported the bill to the House with a negative recommendation. Representative Rorke of Philadelphia, sponsor of the legislation, said an effort would be made Monday evening to place the bill on the calendar. This move is almost certain to meet defeat, as to be successful it would require a majority of all members present. Monday evenings almost every member is in his seat. Defeat of this bill is to be followed, according to Representative Rorke of Philadelphia, with the introduction of a measure that would allow orchestras, concerts Sunday evenings. He will introduce the bill, he says.

Although a number of good seats are still left for tonight and tomorrow night at the minstrel to be given in the high school auditorium for the purpose of raising money to be used in staging the home-coming reception for Fayette county's soldiers to be held here, the houses are gradually being sold out. Reservations for the past two days have already exceeded any number of seats ever sold before for a local talent, minstrel and it is confidently expected that there are still many persons who have not yet secured their seats.

In the olio there is a singing and dancing specialty by Miss Rene Soisson and "Doc" Huston, which was omitted from the published program yesterday.

The last general rehearsal for the minstrel was held in the high school auditorium last evening.

Invitations Being Sent to Leading Men in 60 Communities to Be Present.

COOPERATION IS DESIRED

Committee is Named by Central Organization to Cover Athletics' End of Jollification for Service Men and Women; Railroad Men Are Ready.

County-wide participation in the home-coming reception and celebration for the service men and women in Connellsville will be considered at a meeting of representatives of 60 communities to be held in the municipal building, Uniontown, Thursday afternoon, April 3, according to announcement at the weekly meeting of the central committee last night at city hall by J. Fred Kurtz, who recently was named county organizer. The meeting will be at 2 o'clock. Mr. Kurtz has prepared a list of prominent citizens in 60 communities and invitations to attend the conference will be extended to them. Some will be represented by one person, some by several.

Uniontown was selected as the meeting point, Mr. Kurtz said, because of its central location, especially for those living in the south end of the county whom the organizer hopes to interest more deeply in the celebration. Connellsville will send a delegation of a half dozen or more of the leaders to boost the movement.

That athletic events during the celebration are to receive attention was evidenced in the appointment last evening of a committee embracing practically every part of the county. Connellsville will be represented by Antonio Bufano, E. L. Duggan, H. Claude Hays, T. B. Donnelly, J. L. Cypther, Andy George, Albert M. Sitar and W. A. Furman; Dunbar by Alex. Duncan and William Jacobs; Uniontown by Edward McCullough and Henry Burke; Brownsville by Assemblyman Duncan Sinclair, Harold Baer and Charles Storey; Dawson by Harry M. McDonald and "A. P. Turner; Dickinson Run by William Ramsey; Ohiopyle by Robert Miller; Leisenburg by Owen McGeary; Point Marion by Peter J. Guyaux, Jr., and Fayette City by George Miller.

The railroad organizations of the city are showing an active interest in the celebration and representatives of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Order of Railroad Conductors, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen were at the meeting last evening and expressed a desire to do their part. A joint conference of all the railroad organizations to discuss the form the participation shall take was proposed by D. T. Hirtleman, who was one of the representatives of the conductors. No action was taken at the time but it is probable there will be a conference. Committees representing the railroad employees have been named by the several organizations as follows:

Trainmen—E. C. Louden, E. C. Gibbons and N. Corrick; Engineers—W. J. Wardley, F. F. Smith, W. H. Pearson and R. P. Cunningham; Firemen—Harry Louden, L. C. Meister and Thomas Christy; conductors—D. T. Hirtleman, M. J. Cadden and Thomas Christy.

At the suggestion of Judge E. H. Reppert, who was named head of the county invitation committee, it was decided to name a local secretary. Alex B. Hood was the choice.

Attorney J. E. Younkin and J. G. Haynes were added to the committee on lodges.

C. W. Downs, chairman, C. A. Crowder, W. O. Adrian, W. L. Wright, N. E. Woolman, S. P. Ashe and H. O. Keagy were named a committee on floats for the parade of Wednesday, the final day of the celebration.

REV. KANAGA RETIRES

Rector of Trinity Episcopal Church Compelled to Take Rest.

Rev. M. S. Kanaga, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church here, and for the past three years assistant rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church in Uniontown, has been forced to give up his duties in order to take a long rest before assuming the rectorship of the Mount Washington, Pittsburg, Episcopal church, to which he was recently called. Rev. Kanaga is just recovering from a recent attack of influenza and the effects of the siege are such that an extended rest is imperative. W. Russell Carr, R. M. Fry and R. W. Dawson of St. Peter's vestry have returned from an eastern trip during which they met several rectors who are considering a call to the Uniontown church. Announcement of the selection of a new rector will be made soon.

The Easter Fashion Treasures

The fashion sections of the store contain merchandise treasures for Easter, not merely from a dollars and cents viewpoint, but more particularly because they contain those assets of value—of fashion value—which mean so much in the sum total of pleasure and satisfaction to every woman at the opening of the Easter season.

For example we know a designer of New York who received from Paris only a few weeks ago, model garments from a leading originator of that city which had only just been designed and which this designer instantly reproduced in line, and adapted in other models, placed them into work and has just sent them in all their newness, originality and fashion desirability, to a certain list of his patrons, this store included.

This kind of fashion service means that we really offer you treasures, enabling you to dress exceptionally well, for this system of bringing things to the store immediately they are accepted, is a store, and not merely a one department policy.

Tomorrow the department of Suits, Capes and Dresses offers:

$35.00 and $37.50 Dresses at $24.95.

$30.00 and $32.50 Suits at $22.50.

Tomorrow the section of Waists offers:

$6.00 and $6.50 Waists at $5.50.

Tomorrow the section of Millinery offers:

$5.00 and $6.00 Hats at $3.95.

Mount Pleasant for the County
Title; Drive for Relief Fund Begun.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, March 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Garrity of Second avenue are the parents of triplets, born early yesterday morning. All three babies are boys. They and the mother are getting along nicely. In the Garrity family there were three children, two girls and a boy. Mr. Garrity is employed at the Scottdale plant of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company, Championship Series.

The Phy-Mo-Me club, holders of the intermediate basketball title of Westmoreland county, will meet the strong Superior Athletic club of Mount Pleasant in the first game of the championship series for 1919. The Superior club has an advantage this year that it did not have last, in that it has been playing regularly each week and has taken on several additional strong players. The local club has been together for only two games previous to the high school schedule and none since.

Friday night the club will meet a strong Greensburg aggregation composed of stellar basketball tossers. The following Friday night, Mount Pleasant will be here and preparations are being made for a record-breaking crowd. The local line will be chosen from the following players: Porter, Humes, Murphy, Night, Lester, Gordon, Rice, Maloy, Byrne, Bixler, Hamilton and Holt.

Relief Work Campaign on.
The campaign to raise $2,500 for relief work in this district, which includes Scottdale and all the territory surrounding, up to Hartsville, has been launched and the quota is expected to be reached before the week end. This particular fund is to cover the sustenance of practically four million people in Asia Minor, the Caucasus and northern Egypt, four hundred thousand of which are orphans who are at the point of starvation. While the pro-rata amount is $2.50 it is expected that many will give more than this as a manifestation of their interest in our brothers across the sea.

SCHOOL GIRL TELLS OTHERS

How They Can Find Relief
From Periodic Sufferings.

Nashua, N. H.—"I am nineteen years old and every month for two years I had such pains that I would often faint and have to leave school. I had such pain I did not know what to do with myself and tried so many remedies that were of no use. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and decided to try it, and that is how I found relief from pain and feel so much better than I used to be. When I hear of any girl suffering as I did I tell them how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me." DELINA MARTIN, 29 Bowers St., Nashua, N. H.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, therefore is a perfectly safe remedy to give your daughter, who suffers from such painful periods as did Miss Martin. The reason so many girls write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice, is because from their 40 years experience they have a store of knowledge which is invariably helpful.

A VALUABLE PUBLIC SERVICE.

By characterizing as a "refutation," the letter of Lieutenant Colonel E. B. Edie, chief surgeon of the 30th Division, in which he says forth the present conditions of that unit with respect to the health of the men, the chief surgeon of the 30th Division, and the comfortableness of their billets, our contemporary has, unwittingly no doubt, placed the outstanding author of this interesting communication in a position we believe he had neither intention nor desire of assuming—that of engaging in controversy with enlisted men of the command of which he is a part. This is not in accordance with the customs and usages of the service, in the observance of which Colonel Edie, we believe, wishes to be just as punctilious as any other officer.

In the first place, the letters which came to Connellsville and many other places in large numbers two months or more ago—two of which were published in The Courier—contained no complaint against the Medical Department of the 30th Division, of which Colonel Edie is the capable head, just as a relative of the same name is the equally capable head of the same department at the port of first. The complaining made by the writers of these letters set forth the alleged deficiencies of the quartermaster's and commissary departments and specified instances of objectionable behavior by junior officers toward the men. These letters were written a very short time after the 30th Division had reached the rest areas and before the system and order, which takes time for its application to all the details and the remote parts of a newly established camp, had established things on a smoothly running basis. That unsatisfactory conditions would be found or did exist at such time and under such circumstances Colonel Edie neither affirms nor denies. In fact, he wrote only of conditions as he had himself observed them just prior to his departure, and made no reference to the writing and made no reference whatever to anything antecedent. Hence, to insert his letter with an air of controversy, which was not the purpose of the writer, is to say the least, unfair to Colonel Edie, and very likely to be more or less distasteful to him.

When the letters published in The Courier were brought to the attention of F. P. Koppel, third assistant secretary of war, that officer promptly ordered an investigation made. It goes without saying that as the result of that order there has been a prompt remedying of conditions, where necessary, or removal of the causes of complaint, where found. This is proven not alone by Colonel Edie's letter which gives such explicit information as to the results of his personal inspection and inquiry, but from numerous other sources, all of which convey the comforting news that the men no longer have reason to complain for the lack of anything necessary to their comfort or well being.

People here at home know that had every responsible head of a department been as zealous and efficient as Colonel Edie of the Medical Department, there would have been no occasion for so many or so emphatic complaints, from men who declared they were insufficiently supplied with certain stores. Unfortunately some other departments did not have Colonel Edie in charge and when things did not go right complaints began to develop.

That these complaints have induced the War Department to take action with a view to correcting conditions, and that the men are now "magnificently healthy, well fed, well clothed, alert and contented," is the phase of the matter which interests and dominates the friends here at home. The point shows that instead of the publication of two letters of complaint having been "unfortunate," The Courier has rendered a distinct and valuable public service by directing attention to the situation about which complaints were made, and the causes for which have since been removed.

AFTER PEACE, WHAT?

Shortly the peace terms dictated by the Versailles conference of the Allies will be submitted to Germany. There will be considerable haggling over Germany's part, no doubt, but in the end she will have to accept them. For Germany must pay the price of her belated world war. And she must accept such conditions as the victors impose, conditions that will make it impossible ever again for Germany to precipitate such a world catastrophe. Her claws must be clipped, says the Liberty Loan Committee. She must never again be able to dream of world dominion.

Then the old world may settle down once more to the business of life. To the realization of safety and security. To the taking up of the straggled traying ends and the tangled threads of existence. And what comes after peace is largely in our own hands. More, individually, perhaps, than ever before. For right now there is a greater, more intimate personal responsibility than we have ever known.

In the past we have regarded the government in a sort of indefinite way as something off yonder at Washington to which we were responsible, but which wasn't just exactly responsible to us. A sort of foster father.

But we are coming more and more to realize that we are the government. That its interests are ours, its responsibilities ours, its welfare ours. That we must stand by it if it is to stand by us. That we're all of a family. And that the rights the government stood for in the war were our rights, just as the welfare it seeks to insure is our welfare. And the billions of dollars it must have to do this are our billions and must be supplied by us.

That if it is our Victory-Liberty Loan as much as Uncle Sam's. His honor to be defended no more than ours. Our prosperity to be restored and perpetuated as well as his. And that what comes after peace for Uncle Sam isn't only his concern. It's ours; yours and mine.

The odor of burning garden rubbish now fills the evening air, and your nostrils, if you venture abroad.

The equinox which has arrived in some parts of Central Europe seems to be the infernal, not the vernal, kind.

The Monroe Doctrine is to be rescued from the peace league doctors.

The Sunday movie bill got badly out of kilter before it got out of the committee's care.

Secretary Daniels reports conditions at the Great Ligonier camp as very satisfactory. That's the discovery everybody makes who visits an army camp, and the men themselves observe, since the War Department's orders brought about changes in conditions. Just an illustration of the improvements to be noted in the "after taking" period.

THE COURTSHIP OF A SALESMAN.

A salesman wooed a lady fair, like goods upon a shelf.

Onto the maiden of his choice he sought to sell himself.

And he was glib and smooth of speech, yet frank and honest, too.

And all the art of salesmanship he understood and knew.

Against the competition of the world he had to stand.

For there were many seekers for the favor of her hand.

"My dear," said he, "I offer you not handsome looks or wealth.

The line I represent on earth is noted for its health.

It has no better men than I to carry on its name.

And they have built for character instead of feeling fame.

As one of them I offer you my future with the view.

That I shall make it just as fair and good as I know how.

Others may promise more than I, much more may others give.

I can but offer unto you my best while I live.

You'll pay a greater price for me than some one else may ask.

But do not judge the labor by the labels on the sack.

High hopes and young ambition now are all I have to sell to you, but love I guarantee.

"I will not fail you in the test, I will not wound your pride.

I will not bring you down to shame, if you become my bride.

When trials come I'll bear the load, I may not bring you fame.

Nor wealth nor friends of high degree, but if your love I claim I'll try to bring you happiness, whatever else may be."

And here the maiden blushed and said: "You've sold yourself to me."

After the Influenza

It gets you in the head or back—suddenly—and oh, how you suffer!
all on account of that little influenza bacillus. It is a fact that when nature tries to throw off the poisons from the body the result sometimes is inflammation of the kidneys. Therefore, the best way is to assist nature as much as you can either before or after the attack by throwing off the poisons (toxins) from the body thru the excretory organs, such as the bowels, skin and kidneys. Drink plenty of hot water, hot or cold lemonade, take Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets for the kidneys and backache. Then take an occasional pur-gative made up of May-apple, leaves of aloe, jalap and made into tiny sugar-coated pills—to be had at every drug store as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. To build up after the grip—to make red-blood and fill the body with vim, vigor and vitality, take an iron tonic, known as "Frontic," and sold at most drug stores or that well known herbal tonic which has been so favorably known for the past fifty years, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

LOCAL FIVE WINS GAME AT LATROBE; SCORE IS CLOSE

High School Ends Season Here Friday Night With Same Team
As Opponents.

Connellsville high added another victory last night when Latrobe was defeated at that place by a score of 27-22. In the first quarter, Latrobe started the scoring and kept ahead, the period ending 7-4. Connellsville came back in the next session, however, and played rings around the home team, the score at the close of the half being 13-8 for Connellsville, Latrobe scoring only one point in that frame.

In the latter part of the game the scoring was close throughout, but the Cokers did not decrease their pace.
Struble and Lyon each caged three field goals and Jimmie McConnell got two for his share. Lyon was in good trim for shooting fouls, scoring 11 out of 14.

Connellsville high closes the season
here on Friday night with Latrobe playing a return game.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off
with Dr. Edwards'
Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad digestion or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immediately effective result.

GROWTH OF ANARCHY LAID TO DELAY IN CONCLUDING TERMS OF PEACE IN PARIS

World Crisis Today Greater Than At Any Time Since Signing of Armistice.

WILSON'S POLICY FACTOR

Insistence That League of Nations Become a Part of the Treaty Has Drawn Out the Negotiations, While the Deliberate Have Been Active.

PARIS, March 26.—The affairs of the world are in a worse state than they have been at any time since the signing of the armistice, with Germany more than four months ago. This is so well recognized that the subject is discussed with little attempt to conceal apprehension by many of those actively concerned in the effort to make peace. While the tendency among those highest in the inter-allied councils is to take a more conservative view, it is known that some of them—to say the least—share the feeling of concern over the failure to straighten out the tangle of conditions left by the war. Conditions are growing worse.

The Hungarian disturbances have brought acutely to the front the dangers that exist. Official information reaching Paris confirms the announcement of the new Budapest regime that the overthrow of the moderate government of President Karolyi was due mainly to the authorized statement that the inter-allied supreme council had ordered the Hungarians to withdraw to the Rumanian boundary fixed by the treaty of 1916, and partly from orders issued to the Hungarians by the allies to deliver to the Czech-Slovakians privately-owned Hungarian vessels on the Danube.

The announcement of the new government at Budapest is virtually a defiance of the allies. The new government is plainly Bolshevik. One of the leading groups is Bela Kun, formerly a secretary to Lenin. Recently he was imprisoned in Hungary as a Bolshevik.

Others are Boehm and Kumi, radical Social Democrats, and Pogany, leader of the Soldiers' Council.

The allied governments have taken some measures to meet the situation. Admiral Townsend of the British Navy has left Paris for Hungary to assume command of the allied naval forces in the Danube. Allied monitors and gunboats have been ordered to Budapest, and a report reaching Paris says they are already en route.

The Hungarian situation not only paves the way for the spread of Bolshevism, but indicates an outcropping of a definite attitude on the part of the enemy countries. The Germans, according to the interpretation placed on the attitude displayed by some leaders of the Ebert government, are likely to show resistance to the conditions which the allies are preparing to impose upon them. That the Hungarian situation will encourage the Germans in that direction is being said by some of the best informed as to the sentiment of the peace conference. What measures the allied plenipotentiaries will take to counteract the state of affairs produced by the Hungarian example is not known. It is doubtful if anything has been decided on other than the obvious necessity of sending allied war vessels to Budapest. It was said in high allied quarters today that the presence of the vessels would be welcomed by a large element of Hungarians.

Americans who have been in Germany many report prominent Germans as saying that Germany will never consent to a reduction of her boundaries to the extent the allied plenipotentiaries contemplate. The suggestion conveyed by these Germans is that Germany will rather throw up the sponge and tell the allies to take complete charge of the country than agree through the medium of a treaty to surrender any territory other than Alsace Lorraine.

Altogether, the Hungarian turnover has forced what is being described as a crisis, which has a wider aspect than appears on the face.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should either one of two things. Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, or they can take as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acids and prevent the formation of gas or sourness by the use of a little Blaud's Magnesia at meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Blaud's Magnesia, which you can get from any drug store, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a detergent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthily without need of peptic pills or artificial digestants.

Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Adv.

PROPERTY VALUED AT $1,000 STOLEN AT DICKERSON RUN

Bulk of Loot Removed From Federal Construction Company Store in Three Valves Work Each.
DICKERSON RUN, March 26.—Some time between Saturday night and Sunday night thieves broke open the office and store room of the Federal Construction company at Dickerson Run and got away with three valves said to cost $225 each, also two wrenches, one pipe-cutter and a pair of hip boots. The valves were to be used at the new pump house—here which the company is building. The material belonged to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad company. The loot is about $1,000.

The superintendent said that there were only three persons who knew where the valves were kept. The local railroad police were put to work at once and several detectives were sent here from Pittsburgh.

IS YOUR BLOOD STARVING FOR WANT OF IRON?

Iron Is Red Blood Food—It Helps to Put Strength and Energy into the Veins of Men and Women. Why Nuxated Iron so Quickly Builds Up Weak, Nervous, Run-down People.

Thousands of men and women are impatiently waiting for the day when they can get on their feet and live a normal life. They are weak, nervous, run-down people. They are suffering from a lack of iron in their blood. Iron is the red blood food. It helps to put strength and energy into the veins of men and women. Why Nuxated Iron so quickly builds up weak, nervous, run-down people.

Iron is absolutely essential to enable your blood to transform the food you eat into muscular tissue and brain. It is through iron in the red coloring matter of the blood that life-sustaining oxygen enters the body. Without iron there is no strength, vitality and endurance to combat obstacles or withstand severe strains. Contrary to general opinion, lack of iron in the blood does not necessarily mean you do not have enough blood, but it means your blood is not of the right kind. To help make strong, red, blooded people there is nothing better than Nuxated Iron. Unlike the cheap iron tonics, it is easily assimilated, does not irritate the stomach, makes them black and blue, and does not make you feel worse than when you started. It is the only iron tonic that gives you the strength and energy you need. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without being coming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while have increased their strength and endurance in two weeks' time while taking iron in the proper form. Nuxated Iron is now being used by over three million people annually and the manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

CHAPTER XXII.

The Crew Decides.
Except that many of the men remained armed there was no suggestion of violence. But for the gleaming carrouse trained on the main hatch, and the small group of gunners clustered about it, the scene was peaceful enough, resembling the deck of some merchant ship. LeVeré stood motionless at the poop rail, staring down and his attitude and expression of face aroused within me a doubt of the man, a determination to put him to the test. Evidently he had held aloft and refrained from taking even the slightest part in our activities. The men themselves were mostly forward grouped together and still excitedly discussing the situation.

"Stand by to reef topsails," I shouted. "We're all one watch now. Go at it lively, lads, and when the job is over we'll eat and decide together what's our next move. Two of you will be enough to guard the hatch and one of you go into the cabin and relieve the girl there. Keep your eyes open. I'll be down presently. Aloft with you and see how quick a job you can make of it."

Watkins led the way up the mainmast rail, and Cole was first into the fore shrouds. The others following eagerly, I watched them lay out on the yards and was heartened to hear the fellows sing as they worked, the canvas melting away as if by magic. I climbed the ladder to where LeVeré stood on the poop, but carefully ignored his presence, my gaze on the scene aloft. Twice I gave orders, changing the steering direction slightly, and commanding the lower sails reefed. The multicolored awning joined me at the rail.

"What's all this about?" he asked. "That's no storm cloud yonder." "There is always danger in fog," I answered coldly. "And besides there is no use carrying on until we know where we are bound. My purpose is to keep the men busy, and then talk the situation over with them. Have you any criticism of this plan, Senior LeVeré?"

He hesitated, but his eyes were narrowed, and ugly.

"You'll do as you please, but you told me we sailed for Porto Grande. Was that a lie?"

"Not necessarily," and I smiled grimly. "Although I should not have hesitated to tell one under the circumstances. I mean to leave that decision to the men themselves. It is their lives that are in danger."

"That scum! Half of them are English and French. All they want is to get away, they will never go back to Porto Grande without you make them."

"How make them?"

"By false observations; there is no navigator forward. It is a trick easy enough to play with a little nerve. I would never have taken part in this mutiny if I had supposed you meant to play into the hands of the men."

"It is very little part you took Senior LeVeré, judging from what I saw. You seemed quite content to stand off here and look on. However you are in it just as deeply as I am, and are going to play the game out with me to the end. Do you understand that?"

"What you mean, senior—play it out?"

"Go on with the rest of us; take your chance with the men and do your duty. I am captain here. The first sign of treachery on your part will send you below with those others. I don't trust you, and all I want is assurance to put you out of the way—so be careful what you do."

I turned and walked away from him toward the forward rail. The men were still aloft but coming in from off the yards. Below me in the door of the companion stood Dorothy, her eyes peering curiously about the deserted deck. She glanced up and saw me.

"May I come up there?" she asked. "Certainly, let me help you. Stand here beside me, and you can see all that is being done. That's all, lads; breakfast is ready; lay down all except the lookout."

We watched while they streamed down the rail and gathered forward of the galley, squatting in groups on the deck. To all appearance the fellows had not a care in the world, or any thought of the stirring scenes just passed through. The girl's hand touched my sleeve, and I turned and looked into her face.

"Have you considered Captain Sanchez?" she asked.

"Why no?" in surprise, "he is helpless below badly wounded."

"Not so badly as you suppose," she said swiftly. "He is able to be up and about his stateroom. I heard him saying, and I believe the steward has told him what has occurred on board, and endeavored to bear a message from him to those men amidships. I held my pistol to his head and locked him in the pantry. He is there now, with the sailor you sent on guard. That is what I came on deck to tell you."

"He is a danger, of course, but not a serious one," I said confidently. "It is safe enough to leave him undisturbed at present. The first thing I need to do is to satisfy those men. I'll attend to that now, and then see to the proper securing of Sanchez. Remain here with LeVeré while I go forward, and watch that he does not attempt to go below."

The fellows had not finished mess, but I felt the danger of further delay, and talked to them as they sat on deck, explaining briefly the entire situation and the causes leading up to the mutiny. I dealt with the matter in plain terms, making no apparent effort to influence them, yet forcibly compelling each individual to realize what would be the result of our recapture. They listened earnestly, asking an occasional question, and passing comments back and forth freely among themselves.

I sent Watkins to the cabin for a roll of charts, and spreading these out, endeavored as well as I could, to make clear our probable position and the nearest point of land. When I had completed the explanation, and stood before them awaiting decision it was Haines who acted as their spokesman. "This yere is Cape Howarth," he asked, a grimy thumb on the point indicated. "An' yer say it's 'bout a hundred and fifty miles west?"

"Yes, about that."

"An' that's no settlement?"

"Some colonists fifty miles north is all."

"That's 'bout right." He turned to the others. "Say mates, this is how I figure. We can't go on no longer cruise with all these bloody rats in the hold. They bound ter find some way out if we give 'em time 'nough. For as I'm concerned, I'm fer dividin' up what we've got, and ter hell with piratin'! What 'er yer say, mates? Shall we run the ol' hooker ashore, an' leave her there, while we tramp the coast? We're just a shipwrecked crew. What say yer?"

There was a chorus of approval sufficient in volume to satisfy me, and I accepted this as a decision.

"All right lads, I said briefly. "In my judgment your choice is a wise one. I'll have an observation as soon as the fog clears and we'll head in for the Cape?"

"When do we divide the swag?"

"Fifty miles off the coast. That's fair enough, isn't it? And my share goes to you."

There was a straggling cheer, but I broke it up with a sharp order.

"Now stand by for work all of you. Watkins and Carter, I want you aft."

IF YOU NEED A MEDICINE YOU SHOULD HAVE THE BEST

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are advertised all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfil the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicine's preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited by those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend for in almost every case it shows excellent results as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is due to the fact so many people claim to be cured of kidney, liver and bladder ailments, correct urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp Root by Postal Address: Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents. Also mention the Connelville Daily Courier. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

THE SOISSON.

"THE LAMB AND THE LION"—Billie Rhodes latest production is sort of a modern Oliver Twist with a girl instead of a boy the center of a series of adventures which lead her through the maze of the underworld of thieves into the environment of high society and entangle her in the villainous schemes of an unscrupulous woman of fashion. Boots was the heroine's name, while the lion, the master thief who preyed on society was her simply 'Uncle Ben.' Boots went with the gang disguised as a boy to take part in a midnight job and was captured and made the tool of a woman of fashion with a score to settle. In high society Boots cut a figure as "Hope Kingston," a debutante of good family until the crash came at her wedding. There is the tang of adventure the thrill of mystery and dramatic situations and also some billious humor in this picture which makes it entirely different from the ordinary photoplay. Not the least of the humor is supplied by a little pig which the burglar debutante feeds with a baby bottle and shocks the conventional society folk. Why Gertrude Mays 'Must Pay' will be shown on Friday and Saturday.

THE PARAMOUNT

"A TASTE OF LIFE"—A Bluebird attraction starring Edith Roberts is being shown today. The story has to do with a modern Eve who falls not for an apple but for marachino cherries. She cannot resist them and one day having lunch with a prospective client for her husband whom she wishes to hold against his return she imbibed too freely of cocktail and cherries. She is taken to a roadhouse to sober up but her companion poor heepled fellow who is trying to give his wife the divorce he thinks he wants is pursued and complications continue to pursue him and his Diligence until they turn the tables on their hunters and make them the hunted. Miss Roberts wears a number of stunning costumes chic and intriguing to the gentler sex. She is supported by Billy Mason May Limer and others. Thursday Kitty Gordon will be featured in The Lying Hand and on Friday and Saturday Mac Nareh will be starred in "The Racing Strain" a romance of Kentucky and Saratoga written especially for the peculiar talents of the vivacious star. A horse race exceeding in picturesqueness and thrills the stirring contest in Polly of the Circus some of the glowing features in The Racing Strain.

THE ARCADE

FRANKFORTH'S DIXIE DANCING GIRLS opened at the Arcade Monday afternoon and are here for the week. The first bill Monday was a riot from the start to finish and had the people laughing all the way through the show. Between Milt Frankfort, Pity Wilson and Sam Burns the audience had so time to think of their troubles. Milt Frankfort made a great bit with his trick piano playing. Pity Wilson as a fun maker has no equal in vaudeville. The Jazz four consisting of Milt Frankfort, Pity Wilson, Emma Frankfort and Harry Ackerman are producers of harmony that cannot be beat and responded to encores at all six shows. The four wooded shoe artists are great and do on a real dancing. They are composed of Milt and Emma Frankfort, Pity Wilson and one of the girls. As a special attraction for Friday night there has been arranged a little contest. This has proved very popular wherever presented. Each of the girls have a garter with a cash prize therein and the persons who hold the lucky numbers get the garters and the prizes. Double coupon tickets will be presented at the box office and from there will be drawn the numbers that win.

Those subject to neck headache biliousness nasty breath rheumatism colds and particularly those who have a pallid sallow complexion and who are constipated very often are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance. PITTSBURG MAN
SAYS HIS STOMACH WAS IN BAD SHAPE

Wm. Fortenbacher, Who Lives at the Wm. Penn Hotel Has Regained His Health.

Give your stomach a chance to make good—and help it so that you may again know the feeling of real health—again have that vim energy and vigor clean tongue sweet breath good complexion and be able to sleep the night through and eat the food you crave without fear of the consequences.

The new herbal remedy for the stomach Plant Juice recently introduced here will assist that much-abused organ the stomach to accomplish these results. Many well known people have testified that they have regained their health through the use of this famous remedy and are glad to make statements in signed testimonials. One of the most recent is that of Mr. William Fortenbacher who lives at the William Penn Hotel and has a wide acquaintance here. He said:

For some time my stomach was in a terrible condition and I would have bad vomiting spells. I could not keep the lightest kind of food down and could not get any sleep at night. I got so weak and run down that I was awfully discouraged as I had tried different medicines without any benefit whatever. I was also under treatment but got no results from it. After this had failed I decided as a last resort to give Plant Juice a trial although I had little faith in it helping me. I can now truthfully say that Plant Juice cured me of the weak spells I had and put my stomach in fine condition. It has built me up in every way. I can honestly recommend Plant Juice. Plant Juice is sold in Connelville at Roy Heitzel's Drug Store—Adv.

JACOBS MESS SERGEANT

Dickerson Run Soldier Writes: Father or Duties in Supply Department. Writing to his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jacobs of Dickerson Run Sergeant at William H. Jacobs of Company I 310th Infantry tells of his duties as acting mess sergeant which he held for two weeks. There were over 300 men in the company which he had to feed. WEAKNESS REMAINS LONG AFTER Influenza

Reports Show That Strength, Energy and Ambition Return Very Slowly to Grippe Patients.

After an attack of influenza doctors advise that nature be assisted in its building up process by the use of a good tonic—one that will not only put strength and endurance into the body but will also help to build up and strengthen the run-down cells of the brain.

One of the most highly recommended remedies to put energy into both body and brain is Bio-feron—your physician knows the formula—it is printed below.

There's iron in Bio-feron—the kind of iron that makes red blood corpuscles and creates vigor. There is lecithin also, probably the best brain invigorator known to science. Then there is good old reliable gelatin, that brings back your lagging appetite. There are other ingredients that help to promote good health as you can see by reading this formula, not forgetting kolo that great agent that puts the power of endurance into weak people. Taken altogether Bio-feron is a splendid active tonic that will greatly help any weak run-down person to regain normal strength, energy ambition and endurance. Bio-feron is sold by all reliable druggists and is inexpensive. For weakness after influenza patients are advised to take two tablets after each meal and one at bed time—even a day, until health, strength and vigor are fully restored.

It will not fail to help you and if for any reason you are dissatisfied with results your druggist is authorized to return your money upon request—without any red tape of any kind.

Note to physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feron, it is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin Calcium Glycero-phosphate Iron Peptonate, Manganese Potassium Ret. Nux Vomica Powdered Gelatin, Phosphatidein Oleic Acid Capsicum, Kolo.
